Minority businesses are considered a vital part of the American economy and culture. Among other things, minority businesses create jobs, revitalize communities and bring dreams of financial wealth and power within reach.

The Georgia Minority Supplier Diversity Council, a member-based organization, was established in 1976 as part of the National Minority Supplier Development Council. As one of the largest of 39 Councils nationwide, GMSDC is supported by a network of more than 500 corporate members and minority business enterprises (MBEs).

Recognizing the importance of minority businesses in Georgia and across the nation, GMSDC is committed to helping level the playing field by creating links to progressive business opportunities through education, exposure, relationships and resources.

In 2007, TDC Systems Integration was selected as the GMSDC "Supplier of the Year" in the Class III Suppliers category. TDC SI received this prestigious distinction over 11 other small business competitors for the award.

The "Supplier of the Year" award recognizes GMSDC-certified minority suppliers who consistently provide quality products and exceptional service to their customers. Even though, only one winner is selected each year, all nominees are considered outstanding companies exemplify strength, power and promote the viability of minority businesses.
